Re: Community Outreach Report 2003

- Monthly press releases for "Big Island Speaks Out" are continuing to be sent to local newspapers and radio stations.
- Weekly schedule grids of PEG channels are continuing to be sent to TV Data and Prevue Channels for listings on Hilo Cablevision's prevue channel.
- The 2003-04 school year marks the third year that Hilo Intermediate School has been submitting a daily "Morning Broadcast Bulletin", supervised by the teachers and produced by the students. This has proven to be a very useful tool in disseminating information to the families and members of the community. Due to the success of this project, we will move forward with plans to contact ALL intermediate and high schools on the Hilo side.
- From a list generated by the DOE, schools were contacted to inquire if a video/media program exists or if pre-produced programs were available for broadcast over the cable system.
- Scheduled tours of the facility were arranged with the schools to further encourage teachers and students to keep on producing or to introduce them to the potential of our facility.
- Na Leo received a grant from Aloha Care to partner with the Bay Clinic - Health Education Department. Three short videos have been produced promoting a healthy life style. The videos have been shown in schools, have been placed in public libraries and are being cablecast.
- Na Leo collaborated with The First To Work Program in preparing a single mother for the workforce. The person successfully obtained a job in January of 2003 and has acquired office skills and training that she will carry with her in her career search.
- Free Video Valentines Greetings were offered to our community members. Flyers were distributed, and press releases were sent to newspapers and radio stations.
- In cooperation with the Kona facility, Na Leo's development of the volunteer program continued. In essence, the cost of training can be offset at the rate of $10 per hour of volunteering for $10 worth of training cost.
- Numerous taxes of our bulletin board form have been faxed on demand. For the first quarter alone, Na Leo received and entered approximately 50 messages from various organizations, including Hilo Adult Care Center, BISAC, Al-Anon, Head Start, YWCA Sexual Assault and Alcoholics Anonymous, to name just a few.
- Civil Service Job Listings continue to be received from the County and are being entered into the bulletin board database.
- The tours of our facility continue. 18 Kamehameha -Keanu pre-schoolers visited, and were taped singing songs and presenting a Mother's Day message to their mothers.

- Contact was established with the Office of the Prosecuting Attorney via a planning committee investigating the community's response to the drug problem. As a result, Na Leo Outreach Coordinator Mary Alexander attended and taped for playback a conference on "Youth Builders", sponsored by the Office of the Prosecuting Attorney.
- Through contact with Hawaii Electric Light Company, Na Leo obtained copies of an excellent 13 week series of programs entitled "The Power Of Choice", dealing with the tough choices teenagers face. HELCO promoted the airing of the show by including cablecast information in the newsletter insert going to everyone of their customers.
- Contact was re-established with the American Heart Association, who provided a three a part series dealing with strokes.
- Na Leo agreed to take part in a 4 week summer program conducted by Sister Rosita of the Sacred Hearts Church, 25 at risk youths from the Puna District, aged 12 -18, completed a 4 week video workshop under the guidance of Studio Supervisor, Clay Callaway.
- In June, Na Leo held an Open House. Na Leo hosted 90+ community members to the opening of the new studio facilities. Pupus were served and a live band performed in the studio. A special "Video about Na Leo" was aired in conjunction with the event.
- In July, 42 letters were sent to ALL Big Island Intermediate and High Schools principals offering video assistance for their respective schools, whether it be advise on setting up equipment that most schools already have, operation or production techniques. Konaheena and Ka'u High Schools took advantage of this offer and received technical help with their existing equipment.
- In cooperation with the District Attorney's Office, Na Leo videotaped Lt. Governor Aiona's address at the "Ice" conference in Waikoloa.
- A Na Leo trained producer, one of Na Leo's youngest at 22, is making his way to the Big Screen. Keoni Alvarez wrote, directed and edited a 47 minute documentary, Murphy Becky Pair - Songbird of Puna. The documentary won an award at the Honolulu Cinema Paradise Film Festival. In subsequent newspaper articles, Mr. Alvarez gives credit for receiving his video training from Na Leo O Hawaii.
- Additionally, video coverage of community events continues, for example: a production of the Hilo Community Players localized adaptation of Shakespeare's play - "A Mid Summa Night", coverage of visiting Korean National Dancer treasures performance at the East Hawaii Cultural Center in conjunction with the International Festival; coverage of the Jr. Miss and Ms. Filipina Pageant
- Due to personal friendship between Na Leo's Outreach Coordinator and SERVCO personnel, SERVCO agreed to donate, pay for shipping and recondition thirteen computers to the Keanu Youth Community Resource Center in Puna. The Center's purpose is to provide marketable job skills to youths in high risk neighborhoods.
- The training acquired through Na Leo's studio production training course was put to the test when Na Leo partnered with the Friends of the Palace Theatre and 20+ other businesses in a New Years Eve extravaganza to produce "Countdown '04". This was a drug and alcohol free New Years Eve get-together for Big Island teenagers, featuring the five best Big Island bands. Attendance was almost overwhelming, with 500 teenagers watching and dancing inside the Theater, while another 200 watched the happenings on Big Screen TVs in the street, where vendors provided food and soft drinks. In addition to security provided by the event itself, The County and the Police Department cooperated by cordoning off the street and providing discreet security at no charge.

Dear Clay,

I am just now catching up with letters of appreciation after a disruptive summer schedule and fall registration. I want to thank you for your patience while teaching our teens this summer. The video you and the youngsters put together is wonderful. I showed it to our leadership team of our sisters and the board of the Puna Performing Arts Center. Both groups thought the tape was great!

I am waiting for Sheila Clifford to make me a copy of her tape of the final performance for the summer 2003 session so more clips can be inserted into your tape of the Puna Arts Summer Program. I did buy a Samsung digital camcorder and accessories. Sears had to special order the camcorder which should arrive in two or three weeks. By then, the teen theater groups should be in session. I'll have a friend of mine order the computer via online so that the teens will have all the necessary equipment to revise the summer tape and begin recording their activities.

I am deeply appreciative of the time and the provision of all the equipment that you and the staff at Na Leo 'O Hawai'i gave to our teenagers. They had a wonderful summer and the experiences you provided have certainly given them some insight into a world of possibilities for themselves for future employment or avocation.

I look forward to working with you as we build the skills of our young people.

Me ke aloha punehana,

Aiea Rosita Arnaia

Senate Committee Chair to Hold Neighbor Island Public Meetings on Status of Healthy Hawaii Prescription Drug Program

Honolulu - Senator Ron Menor, Chair of the Hawaii State Senate Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Housing announced he will hold a series of public meetings on the Neighbor Islands. The times and places of the meetings on each island are as follows:

- West Hawaii: Friday, April 11, 2003, 7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m., Kealahou High School Cafeteria
- Maui: Monday, April 14, 2003, 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m., Maui Waena Intermediate School
- Kauai: Tuesday, April 15, 2003, 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m., Kauai County Council Chambers
- East Hawaii: Wednesday, April 16, 2003, 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m., Hawaii County Council Chambers

The purpose of the public meetings, which are being held at the request of AARP and other consumer groups, are to provide a status report to groups and individuals with a stake in the Healthy Hawaii prescription drug program passed by the legislature last session, which is pending implementation. These meetings will also serve to correct misinformation that has generated confusion about the program. In addition, the senate committee chair will also hear from individuals who are having difficulty coping with the high cost of prescription drugs, as well as unions, consumer groups and other parties with an interest in the implementation of the program. Anyone from the public is welcome to submit oral or written testimony.

Each Neighbor Island meeting will also provide a forum to encourage government officials and the public to become more actively involved in lobbying the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) which must approve a Medicaid waiver for the State of Hawaii before the program can be implemented. The timing of such involvement is crucial since HHS could be making a decision before the end of the month.

The Healthy Hawaii program was established by the legislature under Act 75 to provide discounted drugs to individuals and families with incomes within 300 percent of the federal poverty level. The program will use the Medicaid program and Hawaii's existing healthcare infrastructure to serve approximately 170,000 Hawaii residents who lack adequate insurance coverage for their prescription medications.

Re: "Hawaii Island Most Wanted"

Dear Chief Mahuna,

I am following up on behalf of Na Leo O Hawaii with regards to a proposal presented to your office by our general manager Juergen Denecke. Some weeks ago, Mr. Denecke presented a program proposal regarding a weekly television series to air on Community Access channel 52 and/or 54, depicting photos (if available) and descriptions of individuals currently wanted by the Hawaii Police Department. Unlike the popular show "America's Most Wanted" this would not be a dramatized re-enactment of crime scenarios, rather a simple 15-minute program displaying information and photos about those wanted by the police. An HPD spokesperson could begin and end each episode if desired, and perhaps impart additional safety tips for viewers if the "Most Wanted" roster fails to fill the 15-minute slot. This program would air island-wide in homes and businesses with cable television service on the Government-designated channel 52 as well as the Community channel 54.

There would be no expense to HPD or the County, only the necessary information and photos in a timely fashion to create the program, and if desired, the use of an HPD spokesperson (perhaps yourself) for the intro and closing of each episode. In fact, a "generic" intro could be made and used for every episode, thus eliminating the need for weekly tapings with the spokesperson. Na Leo staff and volunteers would provide the editing services as part of our community outreach effort. HPD would retain all copyrights to the program.

If this sounds acceptable, we would like to speak with you or a designated officer further on the idea. If you have any questions, please contact Mr. Denecke or me at your earliest convenience.

Puna Boy, Director/Producer, Keoni Alvarez

Puna resident Keoni Alvarez is young and good looking enough to bring out the camera - any camera - but instead he's chosen to be behind the camera as the Director/Producer of his own films and president of his own company, Hawaiian Island Productions.

Keoni, a '99 graduate of Palua High and Intermediate School, admits that art, in one form or another, has been the center of his life most of his young life. While still in school, he and his brother, Leani, along with others designed and painted the mural you see at the Palua Swimming Pool. Later he translated Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet into modern English, got the sponsorship needed to put the play on, directed it. "It was a wonderful experience and a terrific learning opportunity," Keoni exclaimed. "My teachers and advisors helped me so much. They taught me a lot about the basics of production."

Then I used what they taught me to help my brother when he was trying to set up his first surf movie. We got a courtship everything, got a sponsorship, work with the County, Hawaii Expeditions, etc. It was while working on the surf movie that I learned that there really was no debt too small to pay personal attention to. It brought out the perfectionist in me. Now I pay attention to every detail of my films from script to scene setting, including costumes, flowers, and hairstyle."

After two years of working with his brother and at Puna Geothermal in the Accounting Department, Keoni decided it was time to strike out on his own and do his "own thing."

"Those two years were great but accounting wasn't where I wanted to be. I knew I wanted to work with film but I really didn't have a particular subject in mind. That's when my mother (Aileen Alvarez) suggested that I do a video on Auntie Becky Pau. I wasn't sure that would be the way to go but she kept encouraging me and reminding me that people like Auntie Becky were getting older and that a good part of Hawaii's history would be lost forever if it wasn't recorded now. Auntie Becky agreed to do the film only if Auntie Emma (Emma Kani, the historian of family history) approved as some of what would be discussed was kapu."

Keoni keeps learning his craft by working with other videographers and at Na Leo, the public broadcasting station, editing film and documentaries. He must be learning well because his film entitled The Song Bird of Puna - Auntie Becky Pau was one of only eight locally produced documentaries chosen for the 2003 Cinema Paradise Film Festival held at Restaurant Row in Honolulu.

Currently Keoni is working on his next video about the history of Hawaii, which he promises will be out sometime soon.

If you would like to see "The Song Bird of Puna" a copy is available for rental through the Palua Public School Library.

'Song Bird' soars for fledgling filmmaker

By Maeda Vera Chai
Special to The Advertiser

Treasured songstress of the Big Island Auntie Becky Pau put her trust in a young, untested but vibrant filmmaker, Keoni Kealoha Alvarez, to tell her life story for his first film, a documentary called "The Song Bird of Puna: Auntie Becky Pau."

Born on March 13, 1929 in Waipahu, Hawaii and raised in Kalaheo, this respected hapauna has endured tragedy in her life, one of them being the day her home was destroyed in 1986 by lava.

Yet, in the documentary, this lonely lady reminisces about her fond memories of being raised in Kalaheo and sings about her love of the black sand with a voice so sweet that it wipes away any tears or bitterness.

"It's still in her mind," said Alvarez, who directed, wrote, did the camera work, edited, and produced the 47-minute, color documentary. "That's why she sings the songs to keep the memory alive."

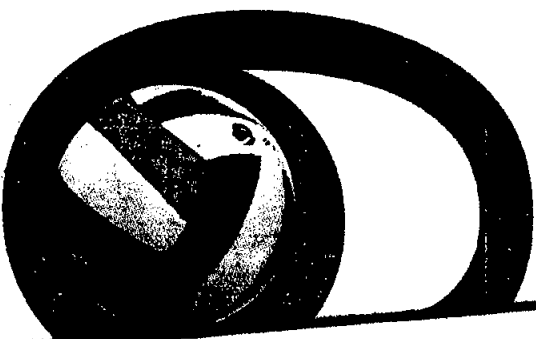

"The Song Bird of Puna: Auntie Becky Pau" opens with many beautiful scenic shots of the Big Island and a gentle, upbeat sound of a guitar playing. Keoni Kealoha Alvarez provides voice-over narration introducing viewers to the unique topography of the island, from its lush green landscape to its snow-

Dear «Dear» «LastName»,

Na Leo 'O Hawaii would like to extend an invitation to your school to participate in our daily school broadcasts. Currently on the Community Television Channel 55, we provide daily morning broadcasting for Hilo Intermediate School during the school year. In our effort to further serve the Hawaii Island community and our local intermediate schools, high schools, and charter schools, we would like to broadcast similar presentations from other schools within our community.

Many schools already have some kind of closed circuit television presentation every morning to inform students of the day's schedule of events or lunch menu. Other schools might have some equipment, but no one to help teach it, while some schools may not have any basic video equipment. Well we would like to help any schools interested in producing such a program to air on the Community Television Channel.

For those of you with programs currently in your curriculum, we would like to talk with you about sharing this video with us. For those schools with equipment and no current program, we would like to offer some basic training to a faculty representative to encourage promoting video technology and media literacy within our schools. And for those without equipment, we would like to talk with you about using our television studio facility, perhaps after school, to assist your students and faculty representative in making your own program for presentation on the channel.

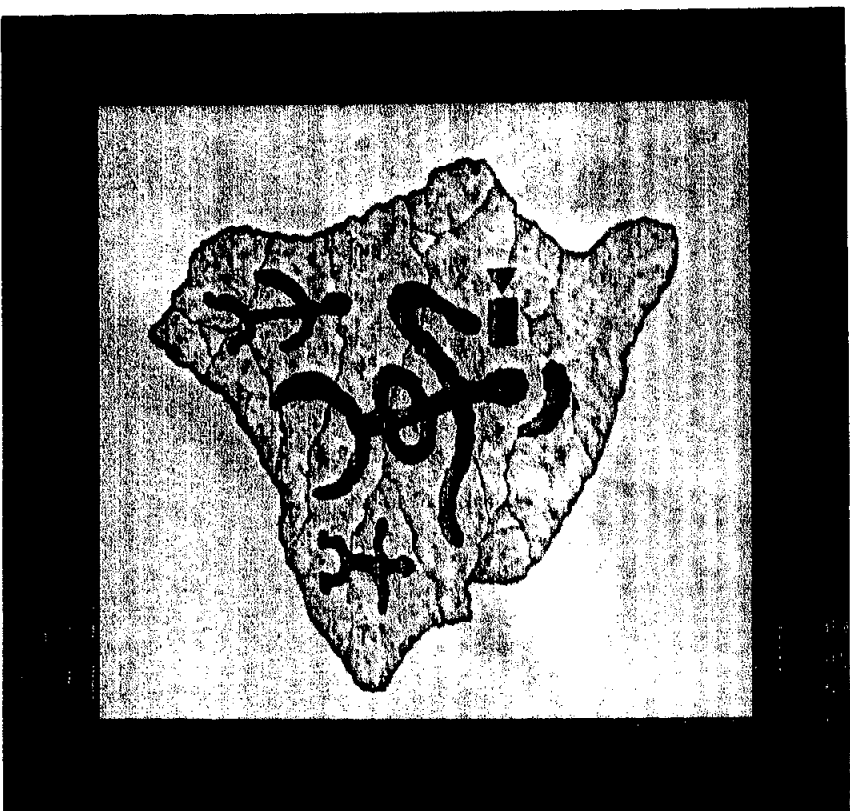

If you are interested in learning further about Na Leo 'O Hawaii and local Community Television, please contact myself or Mary Alexander (Outreach Coordinator) here at Na Leo in Hilo and in Kona, please contact Donna Durham (Assistant General Manager).

"Countdown '04 @ The Palace"

The Friends of the Palace Theater wish to acknowledge the unprecedented support and generosity that made "Countdown '04 @ the Palace the brilliant success that it was. Clearly there are many people who share a deep concern about teenage substance abuse, and we are so grateful to them for allowing us to present our drug and alcohol free youth event this past New Year's Eve.

This huge undertaking would not have been possible without the help of the nearly 70 volunteers who gave so much of their time and effort. We send big mahalos to them all as well as to our wonderful sponsors who include: Bay Clinic Palama Project, Ed Olsen Family Foundation, Restaurant Kaihodo, Cafe Pesto, Lawrence Appraisal Group, Mr. & Mrs. Richard Helmick, KWXK, KBIG, KAPA, Da Bear, B-97, KPUL, Pepsi, Sears, Subway, Domino's Pizza, Creative Arts Hawaii, AAUW Hilo Branch, Imaika Juice, Meadow Gold Dairies, Lummie Bloom-Taloda, Mithara Transfer, Yeh, Tsukazaki & Moore, Rob Nurnally, Mike Longo, Body Glove Cruises, Royal Hawaiian Heritage Jewelry, plus the many merchants who contributed to the "Lucky Draws" which took place throughout the evening.

Mahalos also to all those people who were closely connected with the show's production: Clay Calhoun and Pa Leo O Hawaii Community TV, Alice Moon & Co., Ty Lewis for decor, the Fashion Show and models supplied by Hana Hou, Haku Formal, Puakukani Passions, and Trash Chic's re-created creations, Headline News, and also to Eva Lee for starting on the "Roving Countdown Cam", Pepe Romero's sound system, Bob Pullum's light show, and to D.J. C*Note, and to Shay from KBIG. But most importantly, recognition goes out to the mega-talents of seven blazing rock bands—Moosehead, Living In Question, Technical Difficulties, Misjah, Talkies, Sideline Hero, and Fall of Innocence. Our gratitude goes to all of you for sharing your talents and for bringing in the New Year with such great positive energy.

Because of the wise suggestions from our local Fire and Police Departments, it was a safe event as well. Special mention here to Lt. James Sanborn of the H.P.D. Community Policing for his input and participation throughout our planning stages.

"Turndown" was a smashing show, a great party, but most of all it was a positive event for the youth of Hilo who were recognized for their many outstanding achievements, and who are, after all, worthy of every effort made towards putting an end to substance abuse. We thank you one and all for your care, your hard work, your generous contributions and your good spirits that so enthusiastically joined together and created this extraordinary event. Hana'oli makalohi hoo!

Dear Mark:

After reviewing the training figures with my Studio Supervisor/Trainer and applying the less rigorous 'Olelo definitions of counting classes completed, rather than a tally of those individuals completing the full certification process, the number of class sessions completed by trainees for Hilo in 2003 is 178 instead of 14.

160 individuals signed up to take the Orientation class, 88 persons from that list actually showed up and completed the 2 hour orientation. Of those 88 individuals, 81 decided to continue with the training and took the Basic Production class. Of those 81 persons, 33 took the Camera and Editing classes and 4 took only the Editing class. Additionally, of those 81 persons, 27 took the 12 hour Studio Production classes, of which 21 actually completed the certification process for Studio Production.

Of the 81 individuals that decided to proceed with the Na Leo Certification process, 64 (74%) completed the training without regard as to whether or not they completed their final project.

In summary, Basic Production	81
Field Camera	33
Editing	37
Studio	27
Total Class Completion	178

CLASS NAME	NUMBER OF SESSIONS OFFERED	TOTAL NUMBER OF ENROLLEES	TOTAL NUMER OF STUDENTS COMPLETING THE CLASS	PERCENTAGE OF STUDENTS COMPLETING THE CLASS
ORIENTATION	11	160	88	55.00%
BASIC PRODUCTION	11	87	83	95.40%
CAMERA BASICS	9	55	33	60.00%
ANALOG EDITING	2	7	6	85.71%
DIGITAL EDITING	10	38	31	81.58%
STUDIO PRODUCTION	4	29	21	72.41%
TOTALS = 6	47	376	262	69.68%

OF THE 31 STUDENTS THAT COMPLETED THE REQUIRED COMBINATION OF ORIENTATION, BASIC PRODUCTION, CAMERA BASICS AND EDITING (ANALOG OR DIGITAL), ONLY 14 BECAME CERTIFIED. THE OTHER 17 STUDENTS NEVER COMPLETED THEIR FINAL PROJECTS REQUIRED OF THEM TO COMPLETE THE FIELD PRODUCTION CERTIFICATION PROCESS. OF THE 29 ENROLLED IN STUDIO PRODUCTION, 21 COMPLETED THEIR FINAL ASSIGNMENT REQUIREMENT.
